

CVI 2019 will host an exceptional opportunity for trainees, practicing physicians and cath lab professionals to interact with highly experienced clinical experts at learning workshops with hand-on demonstrations. This unique practical and interactive education is being offered to all CVI 2019 registrants at no additional cost. Each sponsor company will be responsible for pre-registering attendees for CVI 2019 Hands-on Pavilion. Pre-registered attendees will be assigned a particular time period on their preferred day through a confirmation email. Unregistered attendees could be accommodated through an on-site registration process based on availability.

The hands-on arena will be located on the main meeting floor at the Hyatt Regency hotel, the new and more extensive location of the CVI meeting in Denver, CO. The arena will be divided into coronary, endovascular and structural intervention sections with over 30 hands on devices and interactive displays and highly experienced CVI faculty.

The hands-on portion will start on July 17th together with the new exclusive CVI 2019 Complications Course. This course will be CME accredited. The interactive discussions around coronary, endovascular and structural case complications will be enhanced by hands-on displays at the CVI 2019 Hands-on arenas. These arenas will continue to function on the first and second days of the CVI 2019 conference (July 18th and 19th).

Dedicated invited faculty with expertise and CVI Directors (between 3 and 5) will be assigned to each hands-on arena to interact and share their device expertise and tips with the attendees in addition to company representatives and clinical experts located at each hands-on device station within an arena.
